JUNE 2018

EQUINE ALLERGY WEEK

Avacta Animal Health are running Equine Allergy Week (EAW) from the 18th to 24th June 2018 to raise awareness of allergies in horses.

Between the 11th June - 13th July Avacta are offering a discount on Allergy Testing when tested during this period. Contact the practice for further information or to book your horse in for testing.

- Do you suspect your horse may be allergic to something?
- Approximately 10-20% of horses will suffer from allergy during their lifetime

TELEMEDICINE

Ask yourself this question: "Have you ever sent a photo, video, text, what's app message etc, to your vet in order to help gain an opinion on a condition?" We can admit we probably spend in excess of a couple of hours a day looking at photos and videos sent directly to us. Almost all require a response, with a large proportion also requiring a visit. Our concerns are that the frequency and complexity of the requests is increasing and it is difficult to professionally (and legally) draw a line on how to respond to each case. We are therefore having to introduce a new fee within the practice to cover our time that clinical advice is given when a visit is not necessary.
