CARE ABOUT CUSHING'S

Is your horse on treatment for Cushing's but still not signed up to Care about Cushing's? You can claim a free* ACTH monitoring test by registering on www.careaboutcushings.co.uk.

Care About Cushing's is an online resource to support owners with the lifelong management of PPID. It allows you to view your horse's PPID history, save diary entries and upload photographs to monitor their progress. Don't delay, sign up now.

WHAT IS CUSHING'S?

Do you want to know more about Equine Cushing's Disease (also referred to as PPID), but you are not sure exactly what it is and whether it could affect your horse? Visit www.careaboutcushings.co.uk to access expert information at the touch of a button, where you can download an Equine Cushing's disease check list to help you detect signs of this condition in your horse. If you are concerned that your horse or pony may be showing signs, and would like to book an appointment contact the Practice; a free voucher code can be generated for their first blood test* (*Laboratory test fees only).

THE IMPORTANCE OF MONITORING TESTS

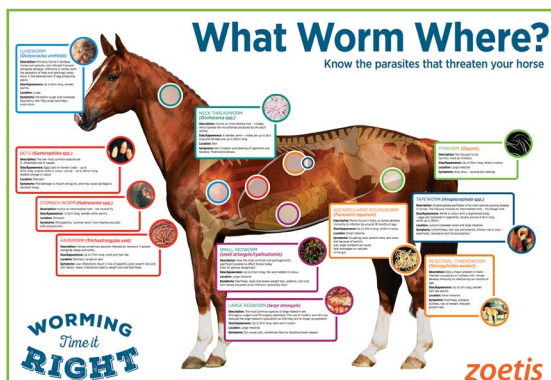

Experts advise that horses being treated for Equine Cushing's disease should be monitored every 6 months to ensure that the dose of Prascend® treatment is appropriate, and to reduce the risk of recurrence of clinical signs associated with this disease. Blood tests check how well the levels of the hormone ACTH are being controlled. Once registered, your free test voucher code will be e-mailed to you 6 months after the date of your horse's last ACTH test result. Then all you need to do is call us to arrange a visit from one of our vets!
