CARE ABOUT CUSHINGS

If your horse is showing their age, Cushing's could be the culprit.

This autumn we're searching for Cushing's suspects - if your horse is over 10 years old, use the Cushing's checklist to find out if they are showing any of the often-missed signs of this disease, and whether they would benefit from a free* diagnostic test.

Identifying Cushing's as soon as you spot changes in your horse will enable you to treat and manage this condition, and keep your horse healthy and active for as long as possible.

*Free basal ACTH test laboratory fees only. (visit, blood sampling and interpretation fees will still apply.) Please contact the practice for more information.

VMD COMPLIANCE

In order to comply with the prescribing guidelines from the Veterinary Medicines Directorate (VMD) we are required to record whether or not your horse has been signed out of the human food chain. If your horse has not been signed out of the food chain, or if we have no record of your horse's status, the treating vet may be limited in which medications they can use for your horse.

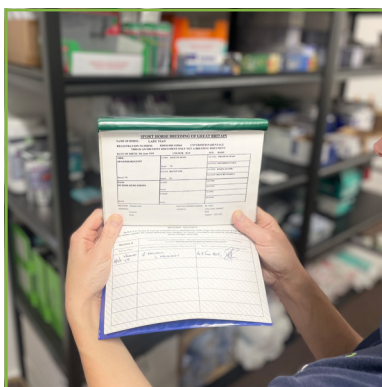

We request that all registered clients forward on to the practice images of their horse's passport. The images must include the front cover showing the passport & microchip number and the completed declaration for "not intended for slaughter for human consumption". These details will be held on your horse's file for future reference.

If you find your horse has not been signed out of the food chain then please either ask the vet to sign it when next out on your yard or bring the passport to the office and we can get a vet to sign them out as soon as possible.
